

User story

- As an event organizer, I want to set participation requirements such as age, gender, and number of participants on the event planning website. So that I can screen participants and ensure the quality of the event.
- As an event organizer, I want to upload pictures and event descriptions on the event planning website . So that I can attract more attention and participation.
- As an event organizer, I want to receive applications from participants on the event planning website, and after approval, add them to the event . So that I can ensure the quality of the event and the quality of participants.
- As an event organizer, I want to be able to choose the category when creating an event on the event planning website. So that participants can quickly find events that meet their needs.
- As an event organizer, I want to see feedback and reviews from participants on the event planning website. So that I can continually improve the event and improve myself.

User story

- GIVEN a participant is browsing the activity meetup website
WHEN they use the search function or filtering options to find activities
THEN they can quickly find activities that interest them and meet their needs.
- GIVEN a participant is viewing an activity on the activity meetup website
WHEN they access the activity details page
THEN they can conveniently understand the activity information, such as time, location, participation fees, etc., allowing them to plan their time and budget.
- GIVEN a participant has attended an activity organized through the activity meetup website
WHEN they access the feedback submission section for that activity
THEN they can provide feedback to the organizers, helping others understand the quality of the activity and the performance of the organizers.
- GIVEN a user is logged into the activity meetup website
WHEN they access their personal profile page
THEN they can view and manage their personal information, participated activities, reviews, etc., allowing them to better manage their activity history and social relationships.

UI Design & User Experience

- Login Interface: User can log in using email and password.
- Event Homepage: On the left side is the user's personal information. At the top is a navigation bar that leads to different category pages (Travel/Sports/Car Pool/Shopping, etc.). In the middle are various summaries of group activities. On the right are activity notifications, private messages, and other related information.
- Event Setting Page: On the left side is the user's personal information. The middle section contains the settings for the group activity and the activity image. The lower section is for feedback and comments from participants.

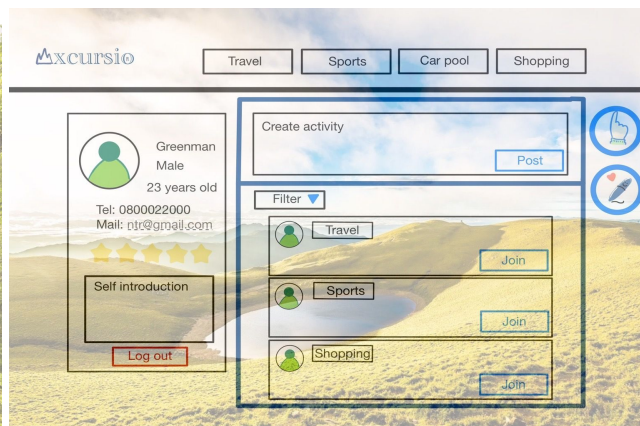

UI Design & User Experience

Login Interface

Event Homepage

Event Setting Page

